Good day,

We would like to sincerely apologize for the incomplete inclusion of some players in the submitted posters. We understand the importance of following all the given requirements, and we take full responsibility for any inconvenience this may have caused.

Firstly, some of our participants were unable to be included in the posters due to their commitments to our upcoming intramurals. This event had already been scheduled long in advance, and as students of Holy Cross of Davao College, we are expected to prioritize and fulfill our academic and institutional responsibilities. Because of this, several participants were already occupied with preparations, practices, and assigned roles for the intramurals, making it difficult to gather complete details and confirmations within the given timeframe.

Secondly, some of our players are already in their fourth year and are currently undergoing their On-the-Job Training (OJT). As part of their academic requirements, they are required to strictly follow their work schedules and company policies. Their time is limited, and we did not want to pressure them further, especially since their attendance and performance in OJT are crucial for their graduation.

In addition, before submitting the posters, we made sure to follow the mechanics that were initially provided to us. We were informed by one of your officers that having at least five members included in the poster would be acceptable. With this understanding, we proceeded with the submission in good faith. However, there were sudden changes or clarifications in the requirements in the middle of the event, which confused us. This made it challenging for us to immediately adjust and comply with the updated expectations.

Moreover, the delay in submitting this letter was due to the requirement of securing our Dean's signature. Unfortunately, our Dean has a very busy schedule, and we were not able to obtain the signature immediately. We exerted effort to process this as soon as possible, but certain circumstances were beyond our control.

We would also like to emphasize that all officers involved in organizing and coordinating this matter are also students. Similar to the participants, we are currently balancing our academic workload, organizational responsibilities, and preparations for upcoming events such as intramurals. Despite these challenges, we managed everything properly.

In this regard, we also respectfully hope that in future events, the rules and guidelines will be clearly communicated from the beginning to avoid confusion and difficulty for students. Due to time constraints, it became challenging for us to comply with new or sudden changes immediately. We faithfully followed the criteria and rules that were initially given to us, and we sincerely hope that adjustments or changes will not be implemented in the middle of the event to ensure fairness and proper preparation for all participants.

Furthermore, we assure you that there was no intention on our part to disregard any rules or guidelines. Any lapses that occurred were due to overlapping responsibilities, time constraints, and sudden changes in instructions. We remain committed to cooperating and complying with all requirements moving forward.
